Role of Education in Women Empowerment.

Abstract:

According to the Country Report of the Government of India, “Empowerment means moving from a weak position to execute a power”. Educationof women in the education of women is the most powerful tool of change of position in society. Women education in India has a major preoccupation of both the government and civil society as educated.women can play a very important role in the development of the country. Education is milestone of women empowerment because it enables them to responds to the challenges, to confront their traditional role and change their life. Increasing access to education notwithstanding, gender discrimination still persists in India and a lot more needs to be done. So that we can’t neglect the importance of education in reference to women empowerment and India poised to becoming superpower in recent years. Education of women is the most powerful tool to change the position in society. Women education in India has been a need of the hour, as education is a foundation stone for the empowerment of woman. . Education also brings a reduction in inequalities and functions as a means of improving their status within the family and develops the concept of participation. In order to promote women’s empowerment, it is necessary to create an environment that will allow women to participate in educational programs and share the benefits. The educational and other policies for women empowerment should be implemented in reality for empowering women in the world. The education develops the idea of participation in government, Panchayat, public matters etc for elimination of gender discrimination.
